

Marwa El-Shazly was born in 1983, Cairo, Egypt, She currently lives in Canada. She studied painting in Faculty of Fine Arts, Helwan University, Cairo, Egypt and graduated in 2006. She received her PHD in 2012 under the title of “The contemporary painting in the middle east and the surrounding political changes, and its impact on the researcher's work – Comparative Analytical study” from Faculty of Fine Arts, Helwan University. Marwa began to use the canvas to convey her ideas about recurrent issues and to develop new aesthetes using her brush. Later, collage became an important aspect of her work, in which she mixes with paint in a way that makes it hard to realize the various layers in the art piece.
